

What Isn't Covered

While NEA and KNEA provide additional programs to help with job-related legal problems, the NEA/KNEA ARP covers many types of personal legal problems you might face. There are, however, a few areas where participating attorneys are not required to give members the 30 percent discount.

Problems such as business dealings, personal injury and preparation of a defense in Internal Revenue Service income tax matters are not covered under the 30 percent discount.

The 30 percent discount also does not apply to the defense of criminal violations, other than the traffic violations covered by the NEA/KNEA ARP.

Participating attorneys are not permitted to represent a member in any matter in which the adverse party is the NEA, an NEA affiliate, or another NEA/KNEA member—except in separation or divorce proceedings.

Of course, court costs, filing fees, service fees, and attorney out-of-pocket expenses are not ordinarily discounted.

It's also important to note that if you obtain your own attorney, you won't receive the discounted rate, even if that attorney later becomes a participant in the NEA/KNEA ARP.

How You Can Take Advantage of This Valuable Benefit for NEA/KNEA Members

When calling a participating attorney, identify yourself as a KNEA member who is taking advantage of the NEA/KNEA ARP.

Remember, although each participating attorney has agreed to provide two free 30-minute consultation sessions, you should discuss with the attorney the fees you will be charged before any consultation session begins. That will help you avoid any misunderstandings.

The free consultation benefit allows you to discuss your problem with an attorney to determine whether you need additional legal services. Do not expect the attorney to draft or review documents during a consultation. If you ask the attorney to provide additional legal services such as preparing a will, you will be billed at a discounted program rate.
